Summer Camp - Funds for Financial Assistance Still Available

Crossroads of America Council does not want any Scout to miss the fun of Summer Camp purely due to finances. That is why the council offers the Annual Popcorn Sale and the Camp Card Sales opportunities. Both of these programs provide revenue sharing back to the unit so that Scouts who participate in these sales efforts can earn money to help offset the cost of camp.

In an earlier issue of The Northeast District Monthly Gazette, the Crossroads of America Campership program was spotlighted. This is a special program where the Council will help offset the cost of camp for individuals who require financial assistance, in return for completing an approved service project. While the original deadline to apply for financial assistance has passed, it has come to your district's attention that funds are still available.

Preparing Your Unit for Summer Camp – Part 2 of 2

The month of May looks like it will go down in the record books as one of the hottest in history. Consider this your "warm-up" drill (pun intended) for your unit's upcoming Summer Camp week. As promised in last month's issue of The Northeast District Monthly Gazette, here is Part 2 with tips to survive your time in camp.

Health and Safety (All Camps)

- Your main "mantra" for the week from a health and safety perspective is "Hydrate your inside, and keep your exterior dry every day...all day!".
- Make sure that everyone has and carries a refillable water container. Consider bringing low sugar tea/lemonade packs for those who won't drink well water. Keep tabs on how often Scouts (and adults) are using the restroom. If they are not going, they aren't drinking enough water!
- Keeping the outside of your body dry will also be very important. Wear good hiking shoes/boots and hiking socks which will help to keep your feet dry! If you feel a hot-spot starting to form, stop and treat it before it becomes a painful blister. Also, be on the lookout for heat rash. This can happen when wet/moist underwear or wet swim suits are worn under hot conditions. Your best bet is to stay away from cotton (it will never dry out at camp). Instead, use synthetic/dry-fit clothing (including underwear).
- Encourage use of sun block, insect repellent and hats at camp on a daily basis.

Make sure sun screen and insect repellent are non-aerosol. Aerosol sprays are flammable and trust me, while Scouts will think it is cool, it is dangerous! Make sure that the insect repellent is composed of at least 40% DEET. Make sure that all campers perform a tick check every evening.

- ☑ Plan for emergencies. Be knowledgeable of where the Camp's First Aid Shelter is located and the fastest route there from all parts of the camp. As thunderstorms can pop-up quickly in the summer heat, it is a good idea to monitor the weather and make sure that everyone knows where the nearest hazardous weather gathering spots are around camp.
- ☑ Everyone should use the Buddy System while at camp. Scouts should check-in and checkout with adults at the campsite if they are leaving camp. Make sure that showers are done as a patrol or a group of similar aged youth...not as single Scouts.
- ☑ Everyone should have and carry a "to go" bag while away from their campsite. Keep these "to go" bags to the essentials, including but not limited to your re-fillable water container, rain gear, extra socks, sunscreen and insect repellent. Scouts should also bring their Handbooks and merit badge worksheets. Don't forget a small pad and pencil for taking notes and a camera for capturing memories.

Firecrafter Coordinator

(All Camps)

- ☑ Enhance opportunity for Scouts at Ransburg Scout Ranch or Camp Krietenstein to achieve their next rank in Firecrafter by identifying a unit "in-camp" Firecrafter Coordinator (track completion of rank advancement during week).
- ☑ For Cub Scouts attending Adventure Camp, make sure that you have a plan for your den to complete the Webelos Camper & Webelos Firelight requirements. They are not difficult to completed, but it can be easy to overlook. After lunch is a great time to work on a requirement. Make sure to get your patch order in on the first day.

Dealing with Homesickness

(Adventure Camp and Boy Scout Summer Camp)

- ☑ Summer camp stays at either Adventure Camp or Boy Scout Summer Camp can be the first-time campers are away from their families. As such, it is not unusual for some campers may experience home sickness. Be prepared to listen to their concerns and help them work through these feelings. Don't hesitate to contact your site guide/staff member when a scout is experiencing serious feelings of being homesick. They are trained to deal with this situation!
- ☑ Discuss homesickness with first year parents BEFORE their son(s) leave for camp. Encourage parents to join the unit on parent's night (usually mid-week). Be ready for some tears at the end of parent's night. Try not to let scouts leave at the end of parent's night.
- ☑ Don't let the Scouts call home. It is a good idea to lose cellphones or establish unit rules that severely limits their use for making and receiving calls. Communications should be through the camp office.

Adults at Camp

(Adventure Camp)

- ☑ Your primary Leader should bring 2 signed blank checks to camp. One for Firecrafter patches, t-shirts, parent's night dinner and one for any unpaid camp fees
- ☑ Keep some quick energy snack in your "to-go" bag just in case. Behavior issues are often because of dehydration and/or hunger; many kids are used to grazing all day instead of eating only three square meals a day.
- ☑ As soon as swimming is done, have an adult collect the suits and towels and head back to camp to hang them up to dry.
- ☑ Adults should be up and ready to go before waking the Scouts. Webelos are generally slow to rise, so make sure to get up early enough so you're not late to flags.

- ☑ Schedule 1 or 2 times to go to the Trading Post and let the Scouts know when that is so they aren't constantly asking to go to the Trading Post.
- ☑ It is a good idea to get your dinner “hoppers” (table waiters) assigned for each daily meal prior to arriving at camp. This will assure that everyone get’s a fair share of “kitchen duty”.

Adults at Camp

(Ransburg Scout Reservation & Camp Krietenstein)

- ☑ Assure that you have enough adult leaders in camp throughout the week to meet camp guidelines. Also have a “hard-copy” of the Adult Leaders Guide handy at your campsite to check last minute details.
- ☑ It is a good idea to get your dinner “hoppers” (table waiters) assigned for each daily meal prior to arriving at camp. This will assure that everyone get’s a fair share of “kitchen duty”.
- ☑ Assure a busy schedule of rank advancement, merit badges, Firecrafter, etc. This is particularly true for first-year campers. It is also a good idea to assign an adult at camp to help them get to classes on time.
- ☑ Monitor free time to assure that Scouts are using it to their benefit. Also have an adult leader assigned to “pass by” the Trading Post to check for Scout campers that may be just “hanging out” instead of attending their Merit Badge classes. It is also a good idea to have an adult at camp serve as the unit “banker” to help meter out spending money sent to camp.
- ☑ Reinforce that Scout campers should not leave camp early. All hands on-deck will be needed for campsite clean-up and assigned camp-wide clean-up assignment. It is a good idea to set expectations for campsite cleanliness during the week. If followed, it should make end of the week checkout easier.
- ☑ Establish a “Lost and Found” location at your campsite...check for owners of lost items daily (reason for putting name on every item sent to camp). Have black Sharpies at camp to label items that were sent to camp without personal identification.
- ☑ BSA Adult Training Courses are available during your week at summer camp. Take advantage of these offerings to complete required training. There will also be special adult leader-only activities at camp. Take advantage of them to meet other adult leaders. Take advantage of the adult leader lounge during the week as well...air conditioning and electrical outlets to charge electronics happens here.
- ☑ Consider bringing a battery powered fan for use in tent at night (and don’t forget spare batteries). Additionally, an inexpensive bug net is also a good investment for a good night sleep if you elect to sleep in the camp provided platform tents. They can be tied up in the platform tent and draped over the cot.

One final very important reminder...everyone at camp should put each day's change of clothes in a separate labeled Ziploc bag. This will help the Scout select their clothes for the day. At the end of each day, dirty clothes can go back in the same Ziploc bag (assuming scouts change their clothes). This to help separate dirty from clean clothes and should make unpacking easier. It should be easier to know which clothes are clean and which are dirty! Adult leaders should also bring spare Ziploc bags just incase Scouts do not pack their clothes using this strategy.

Enjoy your time at camp...it’s a great time to watch your son(s) grow and learn right in front of your eyes.

Friends of Scouting Update — Your Help Needed

Thanks to all of the support received to date, the Annual Northeast District Friends of Scouting (FOS) Campaign has reached 86% of our overall district goal, with only one unit presentation remaining to be completed. At this time, we would like to recognize the following units who have reached or exceeded their unit FOS goal.

Cub Scout Units	Boy Scout Units	Venture Crew/Ship Units
Pack 88	Troop 88	Crew 427
Pack 236	Troop 196
Pack 427	Troop 686
Pack 488

A review of unit pledge totals to date show that an additional 10 units could easily join the Northeast District FOS 100%+ Club with an additional $200 pledge or less! As we still need to raise $20,329 to reach our overall Northeast District Goal, we need your help! If you missed your unit FOS presentation and have not yet pledged to the annual campaign, please contact Wally Bruner or Laura Clay at your earliest convenience and join the thousands in the Northeast District who have stepped up to support the Scouting program in Crossroads of America Council. If you have already given, again, we thank you for your earlier pledge/donation. If possible, please consider increasing your pledge/donation if your financial situation allows.

Firecrafter Mid-Summer Ritual Approaching

For Boy Scouts who successfully finish their week-long Firecrafter candidacy at either Ransburg Scout Reservation or Camp Krietenstein, they are charged to complete the 13th requirement, "the reviews, inspections, and Unknown Test of the Firecrafter Ritual." During the ritual, the Scout reflects on his own skills and whether he is prepared to continue to serve Scouting in the future. The ritual concludes with the induction ceremony where the true meaning of the Fire is emphasized to the Scout.

The first opportunity for Firecrafter candidates to complete the required Ritual is Friday, July 6 (beginning at 5:00 PM) through Sunday, July 8, 2018 (ending at 11:00 AM) at Camp Belzer. Please make sure that all potential Firecrafter candidates Scouts

Whoops...Correction on Earlier University of Scouting Article

Thanks to a loyal reader of The Northeast District Monthly Gazette, we were notified of a possible issue with the University of Scouting article in the April 2018 issue. While the writer would like to claim that this identified error was an “intentional test” to gauge readership, it was indeed an unintended typo (DRAT!).

In the earlier article, we stated that the next University of Scouting was scheduled for November 17, 2019...it should have read November 17, 2018. We sincerely apologize for this error. Please mark your calendar with the correct 2018 date. More details on this outstanding Scout training event as the date approaches.
